Librarian

Monroe County Public Library
Bloomington, Indiana, 47408, United States

Salary: $19.86 - $29.79 (Hourly Wage)

Status: Full-time

Posted: 07/12/17

Deadline: Not stated

Position: Librarian

Position Description:
Monroe County Public Library is located in beautiful Bloomington, Indiana. The library enjoys strong support in a community that values education, arts, culture, diversity, and civic engagement. We are passionate about providing responsive, high quality customer service. The library employs approximately 165 staff, and serves the vibrant community of Monroe County’s 142,000 citizens, with an operating budget of $8.45 million.

Position Responsibilities:
This position proactively engages with organizations and individuals providing services that reach a varied audience, and ensuring Library services are reaching current and new audiences within our community. This includes participating in community organizations, events, and initiatives; creating and sustaining partnerships; participating on boards, forums and local market research and planning initiatives; and communicating through traditional and new media.

The Community Engagement Librarian for Adult Audiences plans, implements, and assess programs (including events, displays, online content, and other aspects) at the Library and in the community.

Required Qualifications:
• Master’s degree in Library Science (MLS) from an ALA accredited college or university required.
• A minimum of one year of related library, community engagement, and programming experience required.

Closing Date: Not stated

Special Instructions to Applicants:
To learn more information and to apply, visit https://mcpl.info/