JOB SEARCH TIP

You spend a lot of time learning how to network, practicing your networking skills, and following-up with your new networking connections but how can you keep these connections alive over time? Great question! I get asked this question often and it is not as hard or as time consuming as you might think. Follow me to the iSchool Career Blog for my tips on how to keep your networking connections alive in 3 easy steps.

Supply & Demand: Matching Your Skills to the Information Needs of Today

Wednesday, November 9 at 5:30 pm PST

Do you know how to assess and identify your marketable LIS skills? Many students think they do but often underestimate what they can REALLY do and how their skills add value. Hear from skills expert Sally Gore, Research Evaluation Analyst at the University of Massachusetts Center for Clinical and Translational Science, and learn how to inventory your own skills and apply them to LIS jobs.
