Position:

Librarian (Outreach)

Position Description:

Established by Congress in 1861, GPO is transforming itself as an agency and as a business. We provide other agencies with innovative services for the printing, publishing, storage, and distribution of digital content. The public will enjoy permanent access to digital government information, acquiring it quickly, easily, and with confidence in its authenticity. GPO employees are proud of their abilities and passionate about their craft. Whether your expertise is in putting ink on paper, commanding a digital output system, or engineering the delivery of information online, we would like to talk to you.

This position is part of the Library Services and Content Management, Government Publishing Office in Washington , District of Columbia.

The position of Outreach Librarian is located in the Office of Outreach and Support (O & S) within Library Services and Content Management (LSCM). As a user-centric organization, the mission of LSCM is to administer four statutorily mandated programs including the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP), the Cataloging and Indexing Program (C & I), the International Exchange Service (IES) and the By-Law Program. Specifically, O & S is responsible for the development of relationships that support these programs and activities of LSCM across the United States, utilizing a wide variety of customer service tools and applications to help depository librarians maximize their FDLP affiliation.

Position Responsibilities:

This is a professional librarian position responsible for working with the library community to better educate users about services and resources available through LSCM, while gaining an understanding of individual library and community needs and how LSCM can address those needs. The Outreach Librarian is responsible for developing partnerships that assist the FDLPs in implementing and maintaining the membership requirements of the FDLP and the operation of individual Federal depository collections.
